Art Unit: 1641

1) References AR and AS (Database WPI AN 90-053405 and JP, A, 2000 495) of form PTO-1449 filed October 19, 2001 are not available to the examiner. A copy of each of these references is requested. The remaining references cited on this form have been considered by the examiner and upon receipt of the missing references, a completed copy of this form will be provided to applicants with the next Office action.

2) Claims 15-24, 27, and 28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 5. Claims 25 and 26 are treated on the merits in this Office action.

3) The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4) Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the absence of a statement describing the intended use of the product (i.e. what moieties are to be "coupled" under what conditions), it is unclear what is meant by the term "activated coupling group".

5) The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1641

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6) Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b)/(e) as being anticipate by each of Failli et al (U.S. 5,130,307), WO 92/05179 (AMERICAN HOME PRODUCTS), Goulet et al (U.S. 5,258,389), Kao et al (U.S. 5,118,678), Failli et al (U.S. 5,177,203), Kao (U.S. 5,194,447), or Caulfield (U.S. 5,118,677).

Each of the references describes a rapamycin derivative containing either a 40- or 28-substituent which can be considered to be an "activated coupling group", i.e. the substituent terminates in a functional group which would be capable of further reaction with a reactive functional group on another compound. Note that 40-, 28-substitution on a rapamycin ring is the same as 42-, 31-substitution depending upon the ring numbering system used. The derivatized rapamycin compounds of the prior art anticipate the rapamycin derivatives of instant claim 25. See:

Failli et al ('307) : col. 2, lines 1-66; R⁵ = nitrophenyl;

AMERICAN HOME PRODUCTS : Abstract, formula (I) ;

Goulet ('389): col. 1, formula I;

Kao et al ('678): formula of the abstract;

Failli et al ('203) : formula I sulfonic acid ester;

Kao et al ('447) : formula of the abstract, sulfonamide ester;

Caulfield ('677): formula of the abstract, amide.

Art Unit: 1641

7) Claim 26 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
